

KÄKKÄLÖ

Google GPS: 68.380304 23.957347

Location:

Käkkälö cabin is located by the river Käkkälö to the south-west direction of Vuontisjärvi village. There is an island in the middle of the river.

Description:

There is one cabin for 6 persons and there is also a separate sauna room. In the yard you can put up some tents. In the cabin you have a small fireplace, gas-range cooker and a small table. In the kitchen there are some kitchen utensils for your use. In the evenings you can use candles for lighting.

Sauna can take 3-4 persons at a time to have a bath. There is a toilet outside and a store to keep the firewood.

In the surroundings you can find some swamp land, forests, lakes, river Käkkälö and a small hill called Ahovaara. Fishing license you can buy at the Vuontisjärvi village shop. In the late summer and early autumn, you can pick berries, like cloudberry.

Coming to Käkkälö:

First, drive to east from Hetta (road 956) to direction Vuontisjärvi village which is 20 km away. After about 17 km drive from Hetta there is a narrow forest road to the right. After a drive of 5 km, you land to a parking area, and from there you take a path to the cottage – the walk is less than 1 km.

There is a post bus connection daily from Rovaniemi to Hetta and the bus continues to Vuontisjärvi, Peltovuomaa and Nunnanen. In summertime you have to walk 7 km along the forest road to the cabin. In winter you can ski 5-7 km depending on which direction you come from.
